

Ohio Cattlewomen's Summer Gathering

Saturday, June 10th, 2017

Lancaster, Ohio

Come and join other Cattlewomen for a day of fun, we are honored to have ANCW President-Elect Gwen Geis speaking this year. We will be visiting the South-Eastern area, Lancaster, Ohio. Our day has two different options for you to choose: we have planned to make our own glass blown ornament, which is fun! If glassblowing doesn't interest you, we are touring a winery, greenhouse, and a cute country store. Registration for glassblowing is limited to the first 25 people, so don't delay. Call or send your reservation ASAP!

9:00 Meet and light breakfast – Ag Center in Fairfield County
831 College Avenue, Lancaster OH 43130

10:00 Glassblowing or New Leaf Market and Lancaster Greenhouse

12:00 Catered lunch & Speaker Gwen Geis – ANCW President-Elect

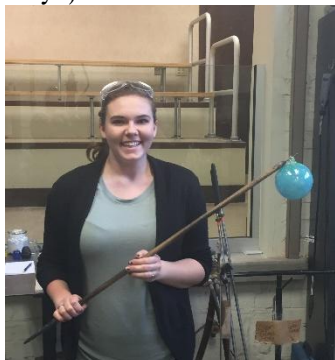

1:00 Plant a succulent garden

2:00 Winery tour and tasting

Cost: $55.00 includes glassblowing, meals, and days activities

$25.00 includes meals and days activities

We have a block of rooms at Hampton Inn, Lancaster for anyone wanting to stay just ask for Ohio Cattlewomen when you make your reservation.

Ornaments pictured above are the same ones we are planning to make! Pick your own colors!

RSVP by May 26 with check to: Amy Coffman

15376 Twp. Rd 44

Attica, OH 44807

Questions: 419-563-4889 or amycoffman@yahoo.com

